So you think you need 4'x8' board*...

Don't worry. You're not alone. 4'x8' board is a traditional size in construction, so most of us think it's a good size for our shower walls. Turns out, most of the time...it's not.

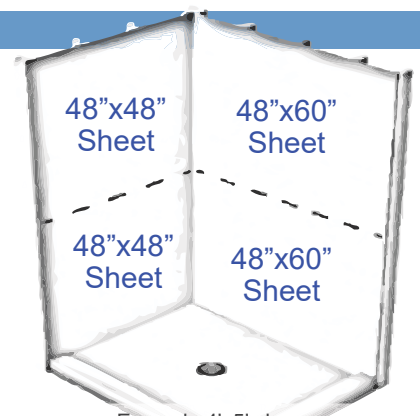

Showers are generally smaller than your living room, and because of this, sheet sizes for the waterproof wall panel used in your shower can be shorter than 8' long.

Uberboard Classic wall panels were designed with the following concept:

"Run the board at 4 feet high (48") around the entire shower and select the closest sheet size to your wall length." With this approach, material calculations is easier, waste is reduced and transport less cumbersome.

There are times when 4'x8' board makes sense, like a very big shower...but most of the time you'll be more efficient using the full range of board sizes available.

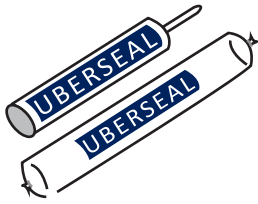

*no offense to those who just love the 4'x8' size :-)

Example 4'x5' shower using efficient board sizes.
